

SHERLOCK HOLMES

International

For each investigation, when you think you have completed the case (when you have found all the clues and you think you have done the trick), go back to 120 and choose a new investigation.

The Indian Sacrifice

your suspects (out of a total of 4)

code

Who murdered Amrit?

The Balmoral Diamond

your suspects (out of a total of 4)

code

Who stole the diamond?

The First Nugget

your suspects (out of a total of 4)

code

Who is responsible for Barks' death?

Have you completed your three investigations? Add up the codes of your three culprits and go to 172.

Your Suitcase

note here the documents or objects found.

The Queen's Portraits

How many did you find?

Scoring

Score 4 points for each investigation solved.

Score 2 points if you found the diamond during The Balmoral Diamond investigation.

The queen's portraits:

If you found 1 to 10 of them, score 2 points.

If you found 11 to 20 of them, score 4 points.

If you found 21 to 30 of them, score 6 points.

Out of 20, what was your score?

If you have less than 10 points,

You might not be cut out for a career in detective work. Perhaps you could make a living as a tiger tamer, a gold digger, or even Queen of England instead?

If you have 10 to 15 points,

You're a good investigator. Scotland Yard should consider calling you for help. You should probably send them your resumé.

If you have more than 15 points,

You transcend excellence! Bravo! You need to open your own international detective agency! There isn't a moment to lose!

In any "case", keep practicing your sleuthing skills by enjoying the other Sherlock Holmes titles from Van Ryder Games. Keep up the good work!
